Barcelona / Barcelona ciudad

€1,190,000

In a building with history, constructed in 1866, we find this penthouse full of light and charm. Renovated in 2008, it combines the original character of the building with a layout designed to enjoy everyday life.

This home has a total of 223 m²: 183 m² of interior space and two terraces totaling 80 m². The heart of the home is a living-dining room that opens onto the first terrace—perfect for having breakfast in the sun or sharing dinner with friends. The open and very practical kitchen invites you to cook and enjoy great conversations, and it also includes a separate laundry room.

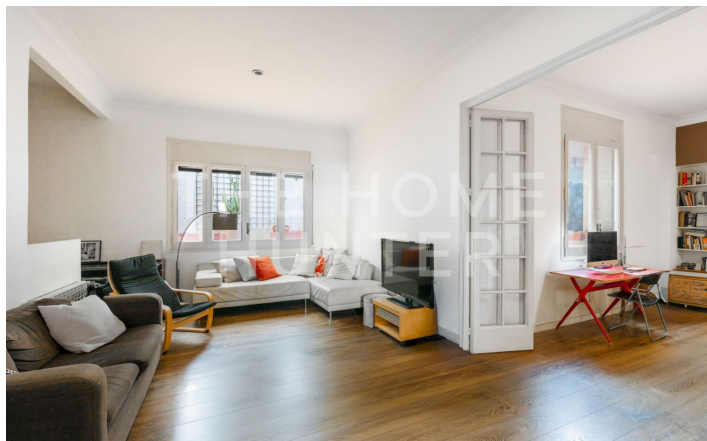

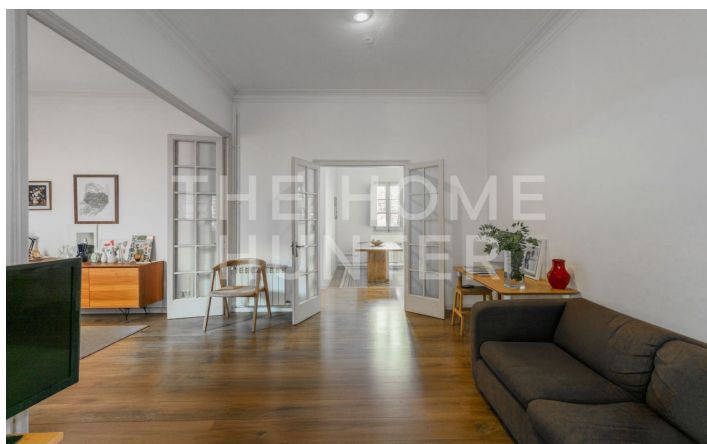

It features two double bedrooms and two single bedrooms, offering space for a whole family or even for creating that office or creative corner you've always wanted. There are also two full bathrooms and built-in wardrobes in every room for greater convenience.

This penthouse has gas heating with radiators and air conditioning. And of course, the building has an elevator.

But let's not forget the two terraces—the true luxury: open-air spaces where you can read, sunbathe, or simply pause for a moment and take a deep breath.
