El Camp d'En Grassot i Gràcia Nova / Barcelona

€397,000

In this building constructed in 1950, this 132 m<sup>2</sup> ground-floor apartment is hidden away — a canvas full of possibilities for those who know how to see beyond.

The property retains charming original elements such as Catalan vaulted ceilings, ceramic and terrazzo floors, and wooden windows that bring authenticity and warmth to every space. A home of the kind that is no longer made.

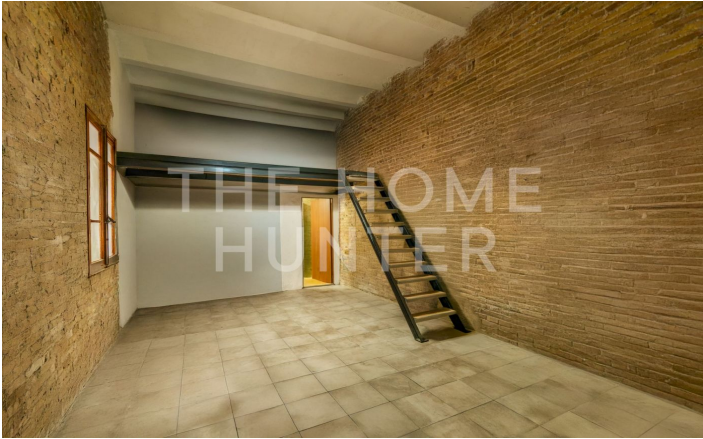

It is currently distributed into two clearly differentiated areas, allowing for multiple visions: a family home, a renovation project with independent spaces, or a perfect combination of living and working.

The first area features a living room with a mezzanine, ideal as a creative corner or relaxation area, one bedroom, and a full bathroom.

The second area offers three bedrooms (two spacious singles and one exterior), a second mezzanine, a separate dining room, kitchen, and another full bathroom with a walk-in shower.

With four bedrooms in total and two bathrooms, this apartment offers volume, generous square metres, and a versatile structure to reinterpret in your own way. It does need a new perspective, yes — but that is precisely where its greatest appeal lies: endless possibilities to create a unique and personal home.
