Sant Andreu de Palomar / Barcelona

€1,200

If I have learned anything in recent months it is that you always have to keep moving forward. Go with everything or nothing, because you never know what is going to happen. We always tell you the story of The Home Hunter, full of risks, but also a lot of effort, and we always encourage you to start your own story. And since we would love to be part of it, we want to do so by offering you a multipurpose space that serves as your starting point. Like this incredible office, super large and with many possibilities to start new adventures.

This 144m<sup>2</sup> office has 4 meters high ceilings and is open plan. It also has a toilet, electric blinds and hot/cold pumps. The year of construction of the property is 1993 and it is now available. It is a space with many possibilities.

You will love it!
